“It makes it so much easier to adapt to the college academic ideas. Being surrounded by people taking the same classes means that everyone is writing the same paper at the same time, so if I get stuck, I can get help from my friends.”
- Stuart Berman

“The LLC has given me the opportunity to live and bond with other students in my classes, and we are able to help each other out. I love the sense of community.”
- Martine Schultheiss

“Knowing that there are other people on campus that have similar ambitions to me and similar academic values has definitely made me feel more like I belong at Syracuse.”
- Mary Skuthan
Living Learning Community

A LIVING LEARNING COMMUNITY (LLC) is a group of students who share a common major or academic affiliation, live together in a residence hall, have intentional faculty support and engage in academic and social experiences on and off campus.

Theme Housing

THEME HOUSING is a group of students living together in a residence hall who participate in programming around a common interest or theme. There is no academic connection.

lc.syr.edu

“I was able to feel at home with people who have the same work and mindset as me when it comes to design. It was one big design family I was proud to be a part of- plus the Design LLC comes with a lounge that was so cool! It was like a place only design students had access to. It made me feel like this is something I wish I could have for all four years. I truly loved it!”
- Adore Ellis

“The Living Learning Community provided me with an immediate network of friends who shared similar interests as me. We had great bonding experiences where we would spend all day in the lounge before an exam pushing each other to master the material, and we always did.”
- Erin Holmgren
LIVING LEARNING COMMUNITY OPTIONS

- Art Photography Living Learning Community
- Barbara Glazer Weinstein and Jerome S. Glazer Creativity, Innovation and Entrepreneurship (CIE) Living Learning Community
- Creative Writing Living Learning Community
- Design Living Learning Community
- Education Living Learning Community
- Engineering and Computer Science Living Learning Community
- Health and Exercise Science Living Learning Community
- Health Studies Living Learning Community
- Honors Living Learning Community
- Indigenous Living Learning Community*
- International Living Learning Community*
- International Relations Living Learning Community
- Leadership Living Learning Community
- LGBTQ+ Living Learning Community*
- Maxwell Citizenship Living Learning Community
- MORE in STEM Living Learning Community*
- Multicultural Living Learning Community
- Psychology in Action Living Learning Community
- ROTC Living Learning Community
- Science, Technology and Math Living Learning Community
- Sport Analytics Living Learning Community
- Sport Management Living Learning Community
- Upperclass Multicultural Living Learning Community*
- Whitman Leadership Living Learning Community*

THEME HOUSING OPTIONS

- Arts
- Substance Free*
- Wellness

See full descriptions at lc.syr.edu.

*Includes upperclass students.
Applying for a Living Learning Community is easy!

Step 1: Log into MySlice using your NetID and password.

Step 2: Select the “Self Service” link (located under “Housing and Meal Plans”).

Step 3: Select the “First Year On-Campus Application” link (located under the “Application & Forms” heading).

Step 4: In the “Personal Information” section, on question indicate “Yes” for your interest in applying for a Living Learning Community. Then on questions 9a, 9b and 9c, rank your first, second and third choices for the Living Learning Communities you are most interested in applying for.

Step 5: Finish the rest of the application and select the “Submit” button.

Apply today! Living Learning Communities fill quickly.

Visit lc.syr.edu for specific eligibility requirements and for more information.

---

A collaborative effort of the divisions of Academic Affairs and Enrollment and the Student Experience.

Syracuse University

Learning Communities

315.443.2079 | lc.syr.edu | lcs@syr.edu